OFFICE OF THE INDEPENDENT COUNSEL

Date of transcription 07/31/98

MONICA S. LEWINSKY was interviewed under the terms of an immunity agreement between the Office of the Independent Counsel (OIC) and her. Present for the interview were Associate Independent Counsel (AIC) MICHAEL EMMICK, AIC KARIN IMMERGUT, AIC MARY ANNE WIRTH, and AIC CRAIG LERNER. Representing LEWINSKY were attorney PRESTON BURTON and law clerk MATTHEW UMHOFER. Present for parts of the interview was Deputy Independent Counsel (DIC) ROBERT J. BITTMAN. The interview, conducted in Room 616 of the Watergate Hotel, commenced at approximately 10:08 a.m. LEWINSKY provided the following information:

LEWINSKY was shown a photograph of President WILLIAM JEFFERSON CLINTON on the next to last page of the April 13, 1998 issue of THE WEEKLY STANDARD. LEWINSKY advised she purchased and gave CLINTON the sunglasses CLINTON is wearing in the photograph.

December 5, 1997

LEWINSKY advised that on December 5, 1997, she was mad at CLINTON because he would not see her the following day. On November 30, 1997, the Sunday night before leaving for BRUSSELS, LEWINSKY mailed BETTY CURRIE a letter to give to CLINTON. LEWINSKY advised she wrote CLINTON to tell him LEWINSKY needed to see him. LEWINSKY advised she called CURRIE from Europe to see if CLINTON would be available to meet LEWINSKY anytime soon. LEWINSKY advised CURRIE later said CURRIE did not give the letter to CLINTON until December 5, 1997 at 6 p.m.

LEWINSKY advised she attended a Christmas party at the White House the evening of December 5, 1997. LEWINSKY saw CLINTON at the party, which LEWINSKY attended with BOB TYRER, the Chief of Staff to Secretary of Defense WILLIAM COHEN. LEWINSKY advised she saw CLINTON in the greeting line and, before she shook hands with him, she noticed he saw her and began fixing his hair.

LEWINSKY advised she engaged in small talk with CLINTON. LEWINSKY told HILLARY RODHAM CLINTON that she was friends with WALTER KAYE.

LEWINSKY provided 12 pages of documents she had in her apartment which related to CLINTON.

LEWINSKY advised that on the evening of December 5, 1997, she typed, on her home computer, a letter to CLINTON she planned to give CURRIE the following day when LEWINSKY delivered CURRIE and CLINTON's Christmas presents. LEWINSKY advised she often printed out drafts of letters so she could proofread them. LEWINSKY provided copies of drafts of the letter, but she ended up seeing CLINTON the next day, so she did not give him the letter.

LEWINSKY advised the purpose of this letter was to make CLINTON feel guilty. LEWINSKY advised that when she was in England the first week of December 1997, she telephoned CURRIE once or twice. LEWINSKY advised she stayed at the GROSVENOR HOUSE and billed her telephone calls to her AMERICAN EXPRESS CARD.

LEWINSKY provided a draft of a two page letter, dated June 26, 1997, to CURRIE in which LEWINSKY provided suggestions for transcription jobs for CURRIE's mother. LEWINSKY eventually sent CURRIE a version of this letter.

LEWINSKY provided two other drafts of letters she eventually sent CLINTON. One is a November 12, 1997 letter to CLINTON in which LEWINSKY expressed her frustration at not being with CLINTON. The second letter was written sometime after LEWINSKY's November 13, 1997 visit to the White House that coincided with Mexican President ZEDILLO's visit, which LEWINSKY refers to simply as "ZEDILLO day."

LEWINSKY provided a copy of a bookmark/penny, a duplicate of which she had given CLINTON on March 29, 1997. LEWINSKY advised she purchased two of the items, gave one to CLINTON and saved one. LEWINSKY advised NATE SPEIGHTS has the other original of this item.

LEWINSKY provided another draft of a letter she wrote after her "ZEDILLO visit."

LEWINSKY provided a copy of a November 6, 1997 letter to VERNON JORDAN. LEWINSKY advised she sent a similar letter to JORDAN on November 6, 1997. LEWINSKY sent the letter to JORDAN via courier, because JORDAN was going out of town the next day. LEWINSKY advised she had taken her resume to JORDAN the previous day when she met with him.

LEWINSKY provided a copy of a list she sent to CLINTON after her meeting with him on October 11, 1997. LEWINSKY advised CLINTON told her to prepare a list of jobs she would be interested in.

LEWINSKY provided a copy of a draft letter related to her career opportunities. LEWINSKY advised the handwriting on the draft is hers, but she cannot remember specifically what she was referring to. LEWINSKY advised she reviewed the letter with LINDA TRIPP.

LEWINSKY advised she was focused on public relations firms when she dealt with VERNON JORDAN.

FOLLOW-UP TO PREVIOUS DAY'S INTERVIEW

LEWINSKY advised she did not recall CURRIE ever being in the Oval Office bathroom while LEWINSKY and CLINTON engaged in oral sex. LEWINSKY does recall one instance when CURRIE was in the Executive dining room while LEWINSKY and CLINTON engaged in oral sex in the Oval Office hall and bathroom. CLINTON advised LEWINSKY to keep quiet during this encounter.

LEWINSKY advised that she recalls another occasion CLINTON made a comment to her about being quiet while they engaged in sexual activities.

LEWINSKY advised she recalled that on March 29, 1997, CLINTON put his hand over LEWINSKY's mouth so as to keep her quiet during one of their sexual encounters.

LEWINSKY recalls one occasion in which she had to bite her own hand during sexual activities to keep from making any noise.

LEWINSKY advised CURRIE would always knock and announce herself prior to opening the doors in the Oval Office complex. LEWINSKY advised she and CLINTON were generally not concerned about being overheard during their sexual encounters. LEWINSKY advised they were more concerned with being seen in the Oval Office because of the windows there.

LEWINSKY advised the Oval Office study has windows, but no one is usually stationed there. LEWINSKY is aware of peepholes that allow someone to look into the Oval Office from various points around the Oval Office. LEWINSKY does not recall discussing the peepholes with CLINTON or CURRIE.

CLINTON sometimes expressed concern about people looking into the Oval Office and the study. LEWINSKY recalls that when CLINTON gave her her Christmas kiss on December 28, 1997, he had his eyes wide open, looking out the window.

LEWINSKY advised she most often visited CLINTON during the day. LEWINSKY advised the hallway outside the Oval study was more comfortable because it had no windows. LEWINSKY advised that during the "ZEDILLO visit," CLINTON turned the lights to the study out while she was in there.

LEWINSKY advised that she thinks HILLARY CLINTON called when LEWINSKY was with the President on November 15, 1995. LEWINSKY advised she thinks CURRIE hollered back to CLINTON that HILLARY CLINTON was on the phone.

LEWINSKY advised most of her sexual encounters with CLINTON occurred in the hallway outside the Oval Office study, except for the second visit on November 15, 1995 and the visits on March 29, 1997 and April 7, 1996. LEWINSKY and CLINTON occasionally engaged in sexual activity in the bathroom near the study.

LEWINSKY advised she felt as if she was alone with CLINTON when the two were engaged in intimate contact, but they both were still conscious of the possibility of having to disengage on a moment's notice, so they did not disrobe entirely.

LEWINSKY advised she was never concerned about video cameras around the Oval Office, until the news about the fund-raising videos, which occurred in the Fall of 1996. LEWINSKY spoke to LINDA TRIPP about the video tapes, but later learned the videos were not secretly recorded so LEWINSKY's concerns were allayed.

LEWINSKY advised she was concerned about records of telephone calls CLINTON made to LEWINSKY. LEWINSKY's concern was sparked when she read news of the White House turning over phone records to the campaign fund-raising investigators. LEWINSKY expressed concern to CURRIE, who told LEWINSKY not to worry since CLINTON used a different phone when he called LEWINSKY. LEWINSKY may have expressed her concern to CLINTON, but she does not recall and she has no recollection of his response.

LEWINSKY advised she recalls one late October 1997 telephone call from CLINTON where CLINTON had to end the call because HILLARY CLINTON had returned home.

LEWINSKY does not recall either of her two telephone calls with CLINTON, when CLINTON was on the road, ending abruptly. LEWINSKY does not recall hearing a clicking sound when she spoke with CLINTON on the telephone.

LEWINSKY advised she was discreet about her sexual relationship with CLINTON when dealing with CURRIE. CURRIE was "in the loop" when it came to keeping LEWINSKY's relationship with CLINTON discreet.

LEWINSKY assumes RAHM EMMANUAL was present in the Oval Office on February 28, 1997, and is sure STEVE GOODIN was there. LEWINSKY was told by CURRIE that GOODIN said LEWINSKY could not be alone with CLINTON. LEWINSKY assumes CLINTON was in the Oval Office with GOODIN and CURRIE when GOODIN told CURRIE this. LEWINSKY advised that when she eventually went into the Oval Office with CURRIE shortly thereafter, CLINTON did not seem surprised to see CURRIE with LEWINSKY.

LEWINSKY advised a lot of people tried to protect CLINTON by putting reins on his life, but CURRIE does what CLINTON wants done. LEWINSKY advised CURRIE was more like family to CLINTON than a subordinate. LEWINSKY advised CURRIE had a special relationship with CLINTON. LEWINSKY advised CLINTON found it comforting to have CURRIE in the Oval Office area.

LEWINSKY did not seduce CLINTON, nor did she stalk him. LEWINSKY advised their relationship was mutual, particularly with regard to initiating intimate contact.

LEWINSKY advised that, in her December 17, 1997 telephone conversation with CLINTON, CLINTON advised that if anyone asked LEWINSKY about her visits to the White House after her transfer to the Pentagon, LEWINSKY could always say she was visiting CURRIE. LEWINSKY advised this was not the first time CLINTON mentioned this scenario.

LEWINSKY advised this scenario was familiar to her, but it was not brought up on a regular basis. LEWINSKY advised that until December 17, 1997, no one had ever asked LEWINSKY about her visits to the Oval Office. LEWINSKY advised that when she visited the White House after her transfer to the Pentagon, the primary purpose of the visit was to see CLINTON, but she did see

CURRIE, as well.

LEWINSKY advised that CURRIE sometimes drove LEWINSKY out of the White House complex after one of LEWINSKY's visits. On December 28, 1997, LEWINSKY left her visitor's pass in the Oval Office, so CURRIE had to call down to the gate to allow LEWINSKY to leave.

"MEANIES"

LEWINSKY proceeded to provide a description of some of the White House employees who did not like LEWINSKY. LEWINSKY described these people as "meanies."

LEWINSKY's first encounter with EVELYN LIEBERMAN was shortly after LEWINSKY started her job in the Office of Legislative Affairs (OLA). LEWINSKY was taking papers to the West Wing when LIEBERMAN stopped her and asked where she worked. LIEBERMAN also said that LEWINSKY was always trafficking in the West Wing area. LIEBERMAN told LEWINSKY interns were not allowed in front of the Oval Office.

LEWINSKY went to the bathroom and cried and then went to LIEBERMAN's office to clarify that she was no longer an intern and had been hired as a staffer. LIEBERMAN responded derisively by saying "they hired you?" LIEBERMAN then said that she must have mistaken LEWINSKY for someone else. From that moment on, LEWINSKY was wary of LIEBERMAN. LEWINSKY advised she thinks LIEBERMAN was furloughed during the government shutdown, as LEWINSKY does not recall seeing her during that time.

LEWINSKY did not mention her encounter with LIEBERMAN to CLINTON. LEWINSKY believes her encounter with LIEBERMAN occurred in December of 1995 as LEWINSKY did not interact with CLINTON that much during December of 1995.

LEWINSKY advised that she was never reprimanded for dressing inappropriately while employed at the White House. LEWINSKY attributes those stories to a "White House smear campaign."

LEWINSKY cannot recall any other direct encounters with LIEBERMAN. LEWINSKY advised that she had a near encounter on April 7, 1996, because United States Secret Service Uniformed Officer JOHN MUSKETT asked LEWINSKY if he should check with LIEBERMAN to see if he should allow LEWINSKY into the Oval Office. LEWINSKY told MUSKETT that this would not be necessary, since she was just dropping off papers.

CLINTON told LEWINSKY that LIEBERMAN had LEWINSKY transferred to the Pentagon because 1996 was an election year. LEWINSKY advised a lot of people at the White House were wary of LIEBERMAN. LEWINSKY was especially wary of LIEBERMAN because LEWINSKY was having a relationship with CLINTON.

CLINTON telephoned LEWINSKY from Florida on October 22, 1996.

LEWINSKY advised that CURRIE was wary of LIEBERMAN, as well. LEWINSKY advised that on either October 23 or October 24, 1996, LEWINSKY saw and spoke to CLINTON at a fund-raiser for Senate Democrats. That evening, CLINTON called LEWINSKY. During the conversation, LEWINSKY said that she was going to see White House photographer BILLIE SHADDIX at the White House the following day. CLINTON told LEWINSKY to stop by the West Wing.

LEWINSKY told CLINTON to have CURRIE come down to the photo office to escort LEWINSKY to the West Wing. LEWINSKY was unable to see CLINTON and his departure ceremony that day because CURRIE said that LIEBERMAN was in the area and CURRIE had to wait until LIEBERMAN was gone before bringing LEWINSKY to the Oval Office area. CURRIE told LEWINSKY that LIEBERMAN did not like LEWINSKY.

LEWINSKY advised that her mother, MARCIA LEWIS, and step-father, PETER STRAUSS, saw LIEBERMAN at a VOICE OF AMERICA event. LIEBERMAN told MARCIA LEWIS that LEWINSKY was transferred from the White HOUSE due to political expediency. LIEBERMAN added that LEWINSKY was cursed because she was beautiful.

LEWINSKY advised that SUSAN BROPHY and others in the Office of Legislative Affairs called LEWINSKY a "stalker."

LEWINSKY did not express her frustrations with CLINTON that LEWINSKY ended up having to make most of the arrangements to meet with CLINTON.

LEWINSKY advised that STEVE GOODIN initially treated LEWINSKY kindly. LEWINSKY recalled one time when LEWINSKY and JAY FOOTLIK went to the Oval Office so LEWINSKY could deliver a tie to CLINTON. LEWINSKY and FOOTLIK bumped into GOODIN outside BETTY CURRIE's office and the three sang a parody of the song "You don't bring me flowers."

Continuation of OIC-302 of MONICA S. LEWINSKY, On 07/31/98, Page 8

LEWINSKY recalled that on MARTIN LUTHER KING DAY, 1996, PAT GRIFFIN asked LEWINSKY to call LEON PANETTA, who was traveling with the President. LEWINSKY called GOODIN, who half-jokingly said to LEWINSKY that he only spoke to "principals." Others present laughed at LEWINSKY's expense.

LEWINSKY advised that on May 24, 1997, LEWINSKY was with CLINTON in the study. LEWINSKY had left her LOUIS VUITTON purse on the dining room table in the Executive Dining room. CLINTON had to leave the study at one point and LEWINSKY heard him speaking to GOODIN.

LEWINSKY advised that she was "paranoid" about what people were thinking about her. LEWINSKY advised CLINTON paid a lot of attention to her, sometimes in front of others. LEWINSKY felt that people in the White House did not want to acknowledge that the President might actually like LEWINSKY.

LEWINSKY advised that initially she felt HERNREICH was friendly with her. LEWINSKY saw HERNREICH on April 7, 1996 when LEWINSKY was transferred. HERNREICH told LEWINSKY to come in and see her on April 8, 1996. HERNREICH was very kind to her and consoled her. HERNREICH told LEWINSKY she would see what she could do for LEWINSKY.

After LEWINSKY was transferred, CURRIE specifically mentioned to LEWINSKY when HERNREICH was not around. CURRIE's concern with whether or not HERNREICH was around indicated to LEWINSKY that HERNREICH may have disliked LEWINSKY.

LEWINSKY advised that in early 1997, during telephone conversations on January 12 and February 8, CLINTON told her that BOB NASH was in charge of finding her a job at the White House. LEWINSKY later learned that NASH, head of Presidential Personnel, was in charge of finding jobs outside the White House. LEWINSKY then learned the "ball was passed" to MARSHA SCOTT by the end of April of 1997.

LEWINSKY advised that she spoke to SCOTT's assistant, but got the impression that SCOTT was not aware of who she was and SCOTT never returned the call. LEWINSKY then sent a nasty note to CLINTON, referencing her dealings with SCOTT. LEWINSKY thinks she either sent by courier or hand-delivered the note to CURRIE to give to CLINTON.

Several weeks later, SCOTT called LEWINSKY and said that SCOTT had been out due to back surgery and did not have a chance to call LEWINSKY. LEWINSKY thinks SCOTT either read LEWINSKY's note to CLINTON, or CLINTON conveyed the contents of it to her. SCOTT arranged an appointment for LEWINSKY to meet with her.

LEWINSKY does not recall the length of the meeting, but she does recall SCOTT asking SCOTT's assistant to leave the office during the meeting. LEWINSKY described SCOTT's tone as pleasant. LEWINSKY advised SCOTT had a picture of SCOTT and CLINTON on the wall in her office. In the photograph, CLINTON is wearing a tie LEWINSKY had given him.

SCOTT asked a lot of questions during the meeting, some of which LEWINSKY felt were intrusive. SCOTT said that JODIE TORKELOSON and EVELYN LIEBERMAN did not like LEWINSKY. LEWINSKY felt an unspoken tension with SCOTT, as LEWINSKY was a current lover of CLINTON's, [REDACTED]

LEWINSKY advised she had two meetings with SCOTT, and is not sure about at which meeting certain things were said. At one meeting, SCOTT indicated she would "detail" LEWINSKY at the White House. In a "detail," the employee works at the White House, but is paid by another agency, like the Defense Department. LEWINSKY advised "detailees" work at the White House for a limited time, prior to going back to their agency or finding a permanent position at the White House.

LEWINSKY advised that LIZ BAILEY told LEWINSKY that SCOTT lost her "detail" post and would be unable to find a position for LEWINSKY. SCOTT told LEWINSKY the reason she was unable to find LEWINSKY a position was because KEN BACON and CLIFF BERNATH at the Pentagon said they did not want to "lose" LEWINSKY.

LEWINSKY got into an argument with SCOTT as SCOTT told LEWINSKY that she would have to wait until December, after certain people left the White House, including LIEBERMAN, before returning to the White House. LEWINSKY said that was not fair and SCOTT said life was not fair. SCOTT said it was not fair that she had incurred $400,000 in attorney's fees simply for working at the White House.

Looking back at the situation, LEWINSKY thinks SCOTT may have been trying to protect CLINTON because of LEWINSKY's association with the KATHLEEN WILLEY/LINDA TRIPP matter.

Continuation of OIC-302 of MONICA S. LEWINSKY . On 07/31/98 . Page 10JOBS

Between September 12 and 26, 1997, CURRIE advised she was going to talk to JOHN PODESTA. On October 7, 1997, LEWINSKY talked to LINDA TRIPP, who had stayed home from work. TRIPP told LEWINSKY that TRIPP's friend, KATE, who worked at the NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL, said she had heard that LEWINSKY would not get back at the White House, and if she did, LEWINSKY would not get a job requiring a blue, West Wing pass. TRIPP said that KATE's advice was for LEWINSKY to "get out of town."

This conversation with TRIPP made LEWINSKY so angry she left work early that day. LEWINSKY advised she then decided to move to New York. LEWINSKY advised she had previously considered the idea of moving to New York, but the call from TRIPP was the "straw that broke the camel's back." KATE's comments confirmed LEWINSKY's hunch that she was never going to be brought back to the White House.

LEWINSKY advised that moving to New York was a possibility beginning in July of 1997. LEWINSKY advised a job at the United Nations seemed logical at the time because it was a government agency.

LEWINSKY had been suspicious of not getting a job back at the White House. LEWINSKY advised that, in an October 11, 1997 telephone conversation with CLINTON, she mentioned to him her frustration of not getting a job at the White House. CLINTON said the problem was that lower-level people knew more about the specific job openings than he did.

LEWINSKY advised that on October 9 or 10, 1997, CLINTON called her between 2:00 and 2:30 in the morning. LEWINSKY advised she was asleep when CLINTON called. The call lasted for approximately one and one half hours. LEWINSKY and CLINTON had their biggest fight ever in this telephone conversation. LEWINSKY said both she and CLINTON yelled a lot during the call.

CLINTON said that if he had known how difficult it would be to bring LEWINSKY back to the White House, he would have never let her be transferred in the first place. CLINTON said he was obsessed with her career and wanted to help her. CLINTON said his life was empty except for work. During the fight, CLINTON also said that, if he had known what type of person LEWINSKY was, he would have never become involved with her in the first place. LEWINSKY advised she was very hurt by this comment and started crying.

LEWINSKY advised that CLINTON was in the White House Residence when he made the telephone call to her. LEWINSKY advised that her caller identification feature indicated "unavailable" when CLINTON called her from the Residence. LEWINSKY advised she did not go into detail about what TRIPP said KATE had said. LEWINSKY advised she was vague with CLINTON when discussing why she wanted to move to New York.

LEWINSKY told CLINTON she had to be out of her apartment by the end of October. LEWINSKY advised that the discussion of her job situation was part of her relationship with CLINTON. CLINTON said he would get working on a job in New York for LEWINSKY.

LEWINSKY advised she stayed home from work on October 10, 1997 and had lunch with TRIPP at the CALIFORNIA PIZZA KITCHEN on Connecticut Avenue. LEWINSKY talked about her early morning telephone conversation with CLINTON. LEWINSKY advised she was emotionally exhausted as a result of the content of the phone conversation with CLINTON the night before. LEWINSKY was also disappointed she would not be going back to work at the White House.

The following morning, October 11, 1997, at approximately 8:30 a.m., CURRIE called LEWINSKY from the hospital and said CLINTON wanted to see LEWINSKY at approximately 9:00 a.m., at the White House. CURRIE told LEWINSKY that CLINTON had paged CURRIE to tell her to get in touch with LEWINSKY.

LEWINSKY advised it was CLINTON's wedding anniversary that day, and CLINTON had tasked CURRIE with finding a HALCYON box for HILLARY CLINTON. The White House Garden tours were taking place that day and CURRIE had two friends there on the tour. LEWINSKY chatted with CURRIE's friends as she waited for CLINTON. CLINTON was on the telephone with CAPRICIA MARSHALL, who had attended the wedding of LAURA HARTIGAN in Chicago.

LEWINSKY advised that she saw ANNE McCOY coming toward the Oval Office, so LEWINSKY darted to the back room of the Oval complex to avoid McCOY.

LEWINSKY met alone with CLINTON in the Dining Room. LEWINSKY gave CLINTON a list of jobs in New York she was interested in. LEWINSKY advised she mentioned First Name Unknown (FNU) KAPLAN from CNN. LEWINSKY may have also mentioned VERNON JORDAN during this conversation. LEWINSKY thinks she may have mentioned JORDAN in the previous telephone conversation in which she and CLINTON had a fight. CLINTON was receptive to the idea of JORDAN helping LEWINSKY.

LEWINSKY mentioned JORDAN because TRIPP had said JORDAN was CLINTON's best friend and JORDAN was on the board of directors of many companies. LEWINSKY looked JORDAN up on the Internet and also saw a lot of references to him in stories about CLINTON's trip to Martha's Vineyard.

LEWINSKY advised she did not want a job in the government.

LEWINSKY advised that, at some point, she knew JOHN PODESTA had a role in LEWINSKY getting a job offer at the United Nations. CLINTON said that he did or would talk to PODESTA.

In mid-October, CLINTON was in Latin America and LEWINSKY worked on her letter to CLINTON regarding jobs. LEWINSKY bought a book at BARNES & NOBLE regarding jobs in New York.

LEWINSKY advised she sent her letter, her GS rating, the section of the PLUM Book regarding other Confidential Assistants at the Pentagon being GS-11's, (while LEWINSKY was a GS-9) to CLINTON on October 16, 1997. LEWINSKY believes she mentioned a salary of approximately $60,000.

On October 21, 1997, Ambassador WILLIAM RICHARDSON telephoned LEWINSKY at home. RICHARDSON said he understood from JOHN PODESTA that LEWINSKY was interested in working at the United Nations.

On October 23, 1997, LEWINSKY spoke with CLINTON on the telephone. During the conversation, LEWINSKY and CLINTON spoke about the sunglasses LEWINSKY recently sent CLINTON. (LEWINSKY also sent CLINTON a CALVIN KLEIN tie, the fifth tie she had given him.) During this conversation, LEWINSKY mentioned RICHARDSON's call to her. LEWINSKY tried to steer CLINTON to think of a job other than the United Nations, but CLINTON said he just wanted LEWINSKY to have options.

[LEWINSKY does not recall when she regularly started using the courier service to deliver things to CLINTON. Mid-March of 1997 was the first time LEWINSKY used the service, but she may have not used it regularly until the fall of 1997. TRIPP had said the FEDERAL EXPRESS system was unsafe. LEWINSKY advised that on March 1, 1997, she sent CLINTON a get-well package, which included a magnet of the Seal of the President of the United States for CLINTON's metal crutches; a little license plate that said "BILL" for CLINTON's wheel-chair; and knee-pads with the seal of the President of the United States stitched on them (by LEWINSKY). LEWINSKY purchased the knee-pads at a sporting goods store on the third floor of the Pentagon City mall.]

[LEWINSKY advised her mode of delivering items to the White House depended on the sensitivity of the items. LEWINSKY advised the most secure mode was to give the item directly to CURRIE. LEWINSKY advised the cost of the delivery also played a role in her choosing a specific method. LEWINSKY advised the courier service was the most expensive of the delivery methods. LEWINSKY advised she dropped things off at the New Executive Office Building (NEOB) approximately 3 times and handed the items directly to CURRIE at one of the White House gates approximately five times. LEWINSKY advised she thought of using the Department of Defense courier to the White House, but could not do it.]

LEWINSKY did not feel it was odd for CLINTON to be helping her find a job because she "had a relationship with him."

Sometime before October 30, 1997, LEWINSKY asked CURRIE to tell CLINTON to call LEWINSKY. In the early evening, around 8 p.m., on October 30th, CLINTON called LEWINSKY at home. LEWINSKY said she was anxious about meeting RICHARDSON. CLINTON told LEWINSKY to call CURRIE after the interview to let CLINTON know how the interview went.

LEWINSKY had given CURRIE CLINTON's Halloween presents, including a lapel pin, sometime during the week before Halloween. LEWINSKY advised she saw a photograph of CLINTON wearing the pin and she read that CLINTON mentioned the pin in a speech.

On October 31, 1997, LEWINSKY met with RICHARDSON at the Watergate Hotel. MONA SUTPHEN, RICHARDSON's assistant, met LEWINSKY in the lobby and escorted LEWINSKY to RICHARDSON's room. LEWINSKY advised the setting was very casual as RICHARDSON was eating breakfast when LEWINSKY arrived. RICHARDSON asked LEWINSKY if CURRIE was her mother.

LEWINSKY mentioned working on the United States Consulate to the United Nations' web-site and suggested implementing town hall meetings, similar to the ones the Department of Defense used. LEWINSKY advised the meeting lasted approximately one-half hour.

Continuation of OIC-302 of MONICA S. LEWINSKY, On 07/31/98, Page 14

LEWINSKY did not think the interview was perfunctory or "cake." LEWINSKY advised that REBECCA LNU and SUTPHEN were there, and at times it may have just been RICHARDSON and REBECCA Last Name Unknown (LNU) with LEWINSKY, as SUTPHEN came in and left intermittently.

LEWINSKY does not recall PODESTA's name coming up during the interview.

After LEWINSKY's interview, LEWINSKY's mother and aunt went to the United Nations in New York. LEWINSKY advised some of the reasons LEWINSKY did not want to work at the United Nations were because LEWINSKY's mother mentioned her concern that a lot of Arabs worked at the United Nations and because the United Nations was somewhat isolated from the business district in New York.

The interview with RICHARDSON ended with LEWINSKY being told that RICHARDSON or his staff would be in touch with her. LEWINSKY spoke to CURRIE after the interview and LEWINSKY was a lot more optimistic about her job opportunities than she was before the interview. CLINTON was out of town at the time.

On November 3, 1997, or later, LEWINSKY received a telephone call from RICHARDSON and was offered a job at the United Nations.

VERNON JORDAN

On either October 23 or 30, 1997, LEWINSKY and CLINTON discussed VERNON JORDAN helping LEWINSKY in her job search.

On November 3 or 4, 1997, CURRIE called LEWINSKY and told her to call JORDAN's secretary GAYLE LNU. CURRIE told LEWINSKY to say she was CURRIE's friend. LEWINSKY advised that CURRIE had called JORDAN to arrange the meeting, so that gave LEWINSKY some indication that CLINTON was involved.

In the late morning of November 5, 1997, LEWINSKY had an appointment to see JORDAN. LEWINSKY was nervous as she waited in the lobby for twenty minutes before meeting with JORDAN. LEWINSKY brought the same package she had sent CLINTON earlier, sans the cover sheet and the GS scale.

LEWINSKY sat in JORDAN's office before he came in. JORDAN made LEWINSKY feel nervous. JORDAN was not very effusive in this meeting. The meeting lasted approximately twenty minutes. After introducing each other, JORDAN asked LEWINSKY why she was there. LEWINSKY told JORDAN she was hoping to move to New York. JORDAN asked her why she wanted to leave Washington, D.C. LEWINSKY said that she wanted to get a fresh start.

LEWINSKY mentioned her employment at the White House. JORDAN inquired as to why he never saw LEWINSKY during one of his visits to the White House. LEWINSKY gave JORDAN the "vanilla" story about why she left employment at the White House. LEWINSKY said that LIEBERMAN did not like her. JORDAN said LIEBERMAN disliked him as well. JORDAN said he had spoken to CLINTON about LEWINSKY.

LEWINSKY and JORDAN went over her list of possible employers. LEWINSKY felt awkward in the meeting as JORDAN did not respond to her often. JORDAN mentioned one his daughters worked at one of the companies on LEWINSKY's list. At the end of the meeting, JORDAN said he and LEWINSKY were "in business."

JORDAN said that LEWINSKY came "highly recommended." LEWINSKY is not sure if JORDAN meant that CLINTON said nice things about her, or if he meant CLINTON had mentioned his relationship with LEWINSKY. In their November 12, 1997 telephone conversation, CLINTON said he had spoken to JORDAN.

JORDAN was going out of town the day after LEWINSKY met with him. LEWINSKY called CURRIE and left a couple of messages with JORDAN's secretary, but JORDAN did not return LEWINSKY's call. LEWINSKY called CURRIE to see what she should do, since she had not heard from JORDAN in almost two weeks.

On November 26, 1997, CURRIE paged LEWINSKY while LEWINSKY was in Los Angeles. LEWINSKY called CURRIE from a pay phone at the WILSHIRE COURTYARD MARRIOTT. LEWINSKY was told to call JORDAN and she did. JORDAN told LEWINSKY he was leaving for China and he told LEWINSKY to call him around the first week of December. JORDAN told LEWINSKY he was working on her job search.

LEWINSKY was anxious as she had given notice at the Pentagon that she was going to leave, though she did not give a specific date.

On December 8, 1997, LEWINSKY sent, by courier, a package to JORDAN, which included a note, a hat and some chocolate, to remind him she still existed.

During LEWINSKY's December 6, 1997 meeting with CLINTON, she thinks he said he would contact JORDAN. LEWINSKY advised CLINTON was the type of person who would say he was going to do something and not really mean it.

LEWINSKY advised that she had breakfast with VERNON JORDAN on December 31, 1997 at the HYATT. LEWINSKY advised JORDAN paid for the breakfast; LEWINSKY had an egg-white omelette, and JORDAN had cereal or yogurt.

CLINTON's Testimony

LEWINSKY is surprised CLINTON has agreed to testify before the Grand Jury. LEWINSKY thinks CLINTON is walking into a "perjury trap." LEWINSKY advised that, with the existence of the dress being leaked, CLINTON may do a "mea culpa." LEWINSKY advised she guessed what CLINTON would say about her when he testified in the JONES case, and she was correct. LEWINSKY advised, though they did not discuss the issue in specific relation to the JONES matter, she and CLINTON had discussed what to say when asked about LEWINSKY's visits to the White House.

LEWINSKY advised she still has feelings towards CLINTON and she finds it hard to provide the OIC questions that may end up hurting CLINTON.

LEWINSKY would ask CLINTON why he wore the same tie twice in once week. (LEWINSKY advised she gave CLINTON the tie.)

LEWINSKY would ask CLINTON why he would give NELVIS the first tie LEWINSKY gave CLINTON. NELVIS then wore it to one of his grand jury appearances. LEWINSKY would ask CLINTON if he was trying to send LEWINSKY a message.

LEWINSKY does not think CLINTON is concerned about BRUCE LINDSEY testifying, as she is unaware of LINDSEY's knowledge of her relationship with CLINTON.

[REDACTED]

CLINTON advised he made a concerted effort not to have sex with other women. CLINTON seemed to feel guilty about cheating on his wife.

When CLINTON was in Mexico, he became ill. When he returned, he asked LEWINSKY if she could tell he was sick.

During their second telephone conversation of December 2, 1996, CLINTON told LEWINSKY about a jazz musician who had been killed on a boat. CLINTON seemed shocked about the musician's death.

LEWINSKY advised, if she were questioning CLINTON, she would show CLINTON pictures of items she had given him which he had not turned over, to refresh his memory.

LEWINSKY advised she never met CLINTON outside the White House for a private meeting.

The interview ended at approximately 4:40 p.m.
