Wow, your mom's flat sounds amazing! That is so wonderful for her- I hope she is really happy with this guy. If you moved to NY would you be able to live with her? Would you still work for the DOD? Probably not, yah? I cannot say I am surprised that this whole situation has taken its toll on you. I'm sure it has for a while now. If I may be so bold to state my unequivocal opinion: I think your 'situation' is a lose-lose situation with him. He cannot ever be totally your's Monica. Ever. And, as I have said before, you deserve a man that is all your's. ALL YOUR'S. And just because there may not be another man around right now does not mean you should put yourself through the ringer with this Man. You are worth much more than that, no matter his Position its the same old affair bullshit. Does your mom support you moving to NY? If so, I think that would be fantastic! I would come visit you once a year and you could visit me once a year (of course, after I move back to the US) and we'd see eachother a lot!

Anyway, was your holiday relaxing? Four Australian businessmen?....I hope they were nicer and more polite than most Australians I meet. Today, Sept. 3rd, is Chris' 31st birthday. I am going to take him out to dinner tonight and, of course, have lots of presents for him to open. Unfortunately, since we don't have an oven (!), I can't bake a little cake. Maybe that is not so unfortunate! Well, I must be off. I'll hear from you soon, take care- I really mean it, too- I love you, Catherine Welcome Home! I, too, was sorry we didn't get a chance to talk, but I'm glad you had a good holiday. How is Jeannie doing? Is she still with what's-his-name? I was also happy to read that Nick seems to be doing better. On my little vacation I went to Princeton, NJ (where I met and had dinner with 4 Australian businessmen – it was much fun!!!!), the Spa in CT., and to Scarsdale, NY to see a friend of mine and my mom's. I did not hook up with that Jesse guy at the spa again. It was sort of my choice and a little lack of him not aggressively pursuing me. So here is big news....my mom has gotten an apartment in NY for a year on 5th and 61st!!!!!! She is pretty serious with this guy and spends so much time up there already. It is funny because her big dream in life has been to live in NY and now he has gotten her an apartment there!!!! It's exciting!

My work sit: I met with the woman who is the White House liaison here and she described in detail, what needs to happen for me to be deatiled there.

It is a much more difficult process than i imagined. Essentially, I would remain an employee of Public Affairs and they "loan" me to the WH. PA doesn't get more money allotted or an extra position to fill my slot.

Normally they would only detail somebody in a slot where there are a few people who have similar tasks , i.e. a media desk officer – with me, there is only one confidential assistant in PA. We'll have to see what happens but I really don't want to work for marsha anymore. I don't trust her at all. I'm moving toward giving it all up. Maybe I'll move to NY. As I told you on the phone, I felt awful about my last visit with him. I don't doubt that he has real feelings for me, but how strong they are is another question. He hasn't taken care of me. we'll see what happens. I'm in an ok place right now. i am just starting to physically and mentally REALLY feel the and see the effects of all of this stress. It is getting to be too much for me. Don't worry though, I'll be fine.

I miss you and am sad i didn't get to talk to you more when you were here (although i probably would have been very boring!)

Big hugs and sloppy kisses,
