

Sunday, March 31, 1996

Weather --

- The President called Coach Pat Summit, of the Tennessee Lady Vols Coach, winner of the NCAA's Women's Basketball Tournament, and Coach Andy Landers, of the Georgia Lady Bull Dogs, the losing team's coach around 8:45 a.m.
 - The President attended Palm Sunday services at Foundry Methodist Church @ 11:00 a.m. Pastor J. Philip Wogaman talked about the humility of Christ. He cited Edmund Muskie and Albert Schweitzer as leaders with humility. The President sat through the baptism of the pastor's grand-daughter and a Confirmation ceremony, welcoming new members. He shook hands with several members of the congregation - a racially mixed, middle-classes group, with a scattering of some who appeared to be street people. The President appeared tired, and took no press questions on the way out of church.
- He returned to WH grounds @ 12:20.
- The President works in the Oval from 3:00 to almost 6:00.
 - The President greets Mrs. Clinton and Chelsea @9:25, as they return from their 10-day trip.

1506-DC-00000559