Ms. Marsha Scott
Deputy Assistant to the President and Chief of Staff for Presidential Personnel
The White House
Washington, DC 20500

Dear Marsha:

I am looking forward to meeting with you when I return from traveling with Secretary Cohen. Based on our last conversation, I wanted to clarify that I fully understand that obstacles exist in terms of obtaining a position in the White House. It is not important for me to secure a position in the West Wing. I am perfectly content having a job in the OEOB.

As I discussed with you when we met, my primary interest is in Communications. With both Sidney Blumenthal and Paul Begala joining the White House team, there is no doubt that positions will be opened and some positions will be created. I have no way of learning of their game plan for positions, but I hope that is something with which you can help me. I also mentioned when we met that there used to be another research position in Communications [see attached]. I know you are busy, but maybe you can look into this position before we meet. If it was eliminated, might it be reinstated with Mr. Blumenthal and Mr. Begala coming to the WH? [The Communication research position is low-level and in the OEOB]. Yet, another avenue that can be explored is Public Liaison. While I do not have as much interest in that arena as I do in Communications, that entire office is situated in the OEOB and, is of course, the public equivalent of the media arena in Communications.

Marsha, I want you to know that I do appreciate the help you are giving me, and I apologize if at times my frustration with this whole situation has been misdirected towards you.

Again, I look forward to seeing you soon.

Sincerely,

Monica Lewinsky
